

President Urged To Use Influence To Unite Armenia

American Committee Also Asks Wilson to Appeal to Allied Powers to Disarm Turks and Other Moslems

A letter of appeal has been sent to President Wilson by the American Committee for Armenian Independence, of 175 Fifth Avenue, urging the Executive to exert his "idealistic influence to have all the Armenian territories united." The letter reads, in part: "As the Supreme Council of the peace conference has requested you to be the arbiter in delimiting the boundaries of Armenia, may we earnestly request you to exert your idealistic influence to have all the Armenian territories united?"

United Armenia should include the former Russian Armenia, now the Armenian Republic of the Caucasus; Persian Armenia and Turkish Armenia, to wit: The Armenian provinces of Erzerum, Van, Bitlis, Harpoot, Diarbekir, Rum, Trebizond and Cilicia.

The Armenian provinces constituting Turkish Armenia, have always been predominantly Armenian, and the Armenians, who endeavor to deprive the surviving Armenians of their heritage on the pretense that they no longer demand that no burglar, having killed the household, can be entitled to the house.

Firm Stand Will Deter French

"M. Paul Doumer, formerly the President of the French Senate, in anticipation of such claim, declared during the Armenian deportations: 'When, at the end of the war, the question of Armenian population comes to be considered, the dead must be counted with the living,' and, since the conclusion of the war, Dr. Johannes Lepsius, the leader of the German Liberals, reiterates the slogan that 'in Armenia the dead shall vote.'"

"Your firm stand for a united Armenia will serve as a deterrent to the French pretensions in Cilicia, which is Armenia's natural outlet to the sea and her best means of communication with the West, and to the British attempt at creating a fictitious Kurdistan in Armenia. The Kurds found in Armenia are not indigenous, but at the behest of the Sultan, the colonized there from purely Turkish provinces in order to increase the Moslem population."

Want the Turks Disarmed

"And we request you, further, to urge that the Allied powers, in pursuance of their war obligation, disarm the Turks and other Moslems in Armenian territory, and facilitate the repatriation of Armenian refugees and the return of Armenian residents abroad for the rehabilitation of the new Armenian state."

"As Premier Venizelos has placed at their disposal Greek soldiers the Allies can no longer contend that there are not enough troops to curb the Turks. If the Allies perform their duty by this minimum assistance Armenia will be able to protect herself and will not need a mandate. You are the only hope of Armenia. Lincoln liberated a race. You can liberate a nation, for this, not only the Armenians but the whole civilized world will be grateful to you."

Persistent Woman Forger To Face Brooklyn Charge

Eugenia Edwards, forty years old, well and unfavorably known to the police for the last nineteen years as a forger, and with an alias for almost every one of those years, is in trouble again. She is held in the Tombs prison on the charge of petty larceny, but, by arrangement with District Attorney Swann, will be sent to Brooklyn to face an old forgery charge.

The woman came of a good family at Glen Rock, N. J. She several times forged checks of her father's, and in 1901 eloped with Simeon Baker, son of a Boston merchant. That same year she was arrested in New York for passing worthless checks and sentenced to fourteen months in the Bedford Reformatory.

Since then her activities have brought her again and again to the notice of the police. One peculiarity of her forging activities has been that the checks she has passed almost always have been for $50 or $500.

COLIN O'MORE The Famous Irish Tenor, Sings Moore's "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" The AEOLIAN-VOCALION

Re-voices it, the sweet, rich tones unchanged and natural

You may play this, or any favorite record yourself, guiding the tones at will as you would if you were singing, or playing a violin

"Believe me if all those endearing young charms"

OUR happiest moments are spent with the Vocalion; for playing the familiar old melodies brings phantoms out of a misty golden past and carries us back, to laugh again, sing again, with the companions of our youth.

"No, the heart that has truly loved never forgets; But as truly loves on to the close."

"Wafted on the wings of the tender old ballad, to the far away days of our courtship. Subtly, the words and music so sweetly sung, bring back that wonderful May night; comes the delicate, elusive scent of lavender—the swish of a silken gown spread wide with crinoline; the breathless question; the earnest, youthful pledge.

"How grateful we are to this music that carries us back and grants us a measure, at least, of that happiness again."

YOU are aware of the pleasure and musical profit the phonograph has brought to thousands of homes.

But are you aware of the fascinating added pleasure the Vocalion brings?

Are you aware that the Vocalion, and the Vocalion alone, possesses a means whereby you can play the music you love best in your own way?

The Vocalion, although a phonograph of later development, is recognized here and in Europe as musically in the lead of all instruments of its type. The typical "phonograph" tone is absent. But the beauty and the richness of the recorded voice or instrument is there.

The genuine art of the skilled cabinet-maker is evident in each Vocalion case. The attractive and moderately priced Period Vocalions are authentic examples of the famous furniture designers. The Standard upright models are developed in the handsomest case-woods, are graceful in design and finished with the greatest care.

The Vocalion advances beyond all other phonographs in tone reproduction, in special mechanical features, and in appearance.

It pioneers in its great playing privilege, the wonderful Graduola.

Have You Tried Playing the Graduola?

We urge you, if you are a real lover of music, the next time you are near any one of the five Aeolian Halls, to come in and play the Vocalion with the Graduola. It is just a simple device for controlling the tone-volume of the Vocalion. But you can obtain such remarkably beautiful effects with it, you will find it so fascinating to operate, that even though you are not thinking of purchasing a phonograph at present, you will thoroughly enjoy the experience.
